ALLIES ADVANCE TO GATES OF COURTRAI

FRENCH FORCES TAKE TOWNS IN RAPID GAIN ON RETHEL

HINDENBURG AUTHOR OF MOVE FOR ARMISTICE

Text of President Wilson's Note Placed in Hands of British Council; Reply Is Endorsed by All the Allies

ATMOSPHERE CLEARED BY ARMISTICE SPIKE

Pleas of Austria and Turkey Not to Be Answered Unless Separate Appeals Are Renewed; Atrocities Expected

LONDON, Oct. 15, 4 p. m.—(By the Associated Press.)—Andrew Bonar Law, government spokesman in the House of Commons, made the announcement in Parliament today that it would be very unwise for any of the allied governments to make any statement on the terms likely to be imposed upon Germany before an armistice was granted.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—It was Field Marshal von Hindenburg himself and not the supposedly pacifist premier, Prince Maximilian, who caused the German government to accept President Wilson's peace terms and seek an armistice, according to a dispatch which reached Washington today through official sources by way of a neutral country.

According to this version von Hindenburg, knowing the desperate condition of the German army himself better than any civilian and especially the fact that there is now no supply of raw material to replenish the exhausted stocks of munitions of war, insisted upon the armistice for an armistice. Prince Maximilian is said to have resisted strongly, disclosing himself in the light of a true conservative and actually only to be overruled by the majority of the war council, at which were present the heads of the German states. This is pointed to as the explanation why the German note in response to President Wilson's inquiries was signed by Dr. Solf, the minister for foreign affairs, although the chancellor had initiated the correspondence.

KNOWS DESPERATE SITUATION OF ARMY. From the same source is cabled a cablegram predicting that the German defense cannot be continued without a debacle for more than three months at the outside. This statement, from a well-informed neutral source regarded as reliable, is based upon belief that a great revolution is impending in Germany, the majority of the people being determined to have peace at any price.

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, Oct. 15.—The text of President Wilson's reply to the German peace offer, received through press channels, was placed in the hands of the members of the British government early this morning. The council met to consider the President's response.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—President Wilson's answer to Germany, ending talk of an armistice until the Germans are ready to surrender and finally closing the door to peace negotiations with imperialism, was the cable today, if it actually had not arrived at Berlin. Only a few hours should be required for its delivery to Berlin, through the Swiss Foreign Office.

So far the President has dealt only with the proposal of the German government, leaving unanswered similar pleas for peace from Austria, Hungary and Turkey. There is no indication that the allies of Germany will hear from him until the dominant factor in the central alliance makes another move, unless one or both of them in the meantime should plead anew, seeking surrender independent of Germany. Turkey already virtually is out of the war, and a separate appeal from the reorganized government at Constantinople is looked for momentarily.

Officials today prepared for further action.

ABDICATION OF KAISER PLEA OF HUN SOCIALISTS

ZURICH, Oct. 15.—The first public demand for the abdication of the kaiser and the crown prince has just been made at a German Socialist convention at Munich, Bavaria.

Advocates from Munich today said that every speaker at the convention upon the Hohenzollerns to abdicate.

LONDON, Oct. 14.—Prince Maximilian, the new German chancellor, has resigned, according to an unofficial report from Berlin to The Hague, the London Daily Mail declared today.

Prince Maximilian's acceptance of the chancellorship marked the beginning of Germany's intensive peace efforts, a dispatch reported that the Socialists in Germany wanted him out, believing that his position should be filled by a commoner.

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 15.—Emperor Carl of Austria has accepted the resignation of Premier Wierkerle of the Austrian government.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Despatches from Holland report that there is a probability of another turn over in the German chancellorship. The Berlin National Zeitung prints a report of a discussion by an inter-war committee, of the letter Prince Maximilian wrote to Prince Alexander of Hohenlohe, which showed a markedly different attitude of political affairs from that proposed in his Reichstag address.

The committee recognized that the situation rendered Prince Maximilian's retention in office doubtful.

ZURICH, Oct. 15.—A general political strike in Bohemia and Moravia began Monday, according to despatches received here. There was a great manifestation in Prague in favor of independence. The deputies declared that the final act of the revolution had begun.

SODERBERG IS HIT BY BOND AGENT'S SPOUSE

Commissioner Soderberg was today attacked in the presence of a small crowd in the rotunda of the city hall by A. V. Kitchen, a volunteer worker in the Liberty Loan drive, who alleged that Soderberg had insulted his wife when she went to Soderberg's home to solicit subscriptions.

Kitchen slapped the face of the commissioner, and then attacked him with his fists, landing twice in the face with his right and bruising Soderberg's right cheek beneath the eye.

Soderberg denied that he had in any way insulted Mrs. Kitchen. The interview between Soderberg and Mrs. Kitchen, which resulted in today's fight, occurred October 5. Soderberg would not say whether a warrant would be asked.

HUSBAND REPEATS STORY WIFE TOLD

According to Kitchen, his wife went to the Soderberg home to solicit a subscription for the fourth Liberty bond. She met Soderberg on the front porch of his home.

"He at first informed her that he had already subscribed, but would not state from what bank. She then asked him, in accordance with her instructions from the Liberty loan headquarters, whether he had subscribed for the first, second and third loans. He refused to answer, saying it was none of her business. When she insisted he said: 'I don't want to talk to you. There are many women of your kind about the streets now, and I have no time for you.'"

"So I waited for him today, and when he came downstairs here, I asked what he meant by insulting me. He said he hadn't, and I told him I was a wife. He said he knew whether he had insulted her or not. With that I slapped his face with my bare hand."

I told him I did not fight, he said, and I wanted satisfaction. He would not fight, and I slapped his face again. He drew a folding pocket knife from his pocket and whether I shall ask for a warrant for his arrest, I do not know that it would do any good."

U. S. TANKS BATTER AT HUN POSTS; MAKE GAIN

Prisoners Are Taken in Advance; German Counter-Thrusts Meet Repulse at Hands of Yank First Army

ARTILLERY DUELS ARE FOUGHT ALONG LINE

Tenton Resistance Stiffens, But Too Late to Check Onrush of Allies; the Damp Weather No Bar to Advance

By FRANK J. TAYLOR, United Press Staff Correspondent. WITH THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY, Oct. 15.—American troops, supported by tanks, today stubbornly fought their way forward between the Argonne and the Meuse, seizing German strong points. The fighting this morning was in cold, damp weather.

German attacks were repulsed by units of the American second army. A heavy counter bombardment came from enemy batteries during the night. This morning the German guns were silenced.

WITH THE AMERICAN FIRST ARMY, Oct. 15.—Swinging into the third phase of the Argonne-Meuse battle, the Americans have crossed the Aire river, captured Romagne and Cunel and menace Champigneulle, St. Georges and Landres.

The infantry attacked yesterday morning, after a terrific all-night bombardment, which blasted the Germans out of their forward positions.

After the first jump the doughboys encountered deadly machine gun resistance and their advance was also made more difficult by the nature of the terrain. They were last reported on the outskirts of St. Julien, into which they were pushing.

In their advance with the French gained more than 20 miles in three days ending Sunday night. They now menace Hattin. General Gouraud has given high praise to the speed and efficiency of the American fighting units.

German resistance of President Wilson's fourteen points failed to excite the soldiers. They were skeptical about accepting Germany's word. The doughboys are not willing to quit unless victory is assured. They manifested absolute confidence in Wilson's ability to handle the situation.

Armies of Germany Evacuating Finland

Gain Edge of Menin, Threaten Immediate Fall of Courtrai; Enemy Is Evacuating Ostend

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Attacked by land and sea, the Germans in Flanders have been thrown back more than six miles on a front of about thirty-five miles.

Belgians, British and French participated in the assault, which began yesterday morning between Dixmude and Wervicq. More than 10,000 prisoners already have been taken.

Roulers was captured early in the fighting, and the Belgians pushed four miles to the eastward, occupying Iseghem. At the same time the British reached the northern outskirts of Menin, less than four miles of Turcoing.

LONDON, Oct. 15, 12:50 p. m.—The Anglo-Belgian army on the Flanders front has advanced within two miles of the German base at Courtrai.

A British monitor entered Ostend harbor about five miles to the eastward of the point where the battle line touches the North Sea and bombarded the defenses of that enemy submarine base. It is rumored the warship was feeling out the German positions, preparatory to a major naval action against both Ostend and Zeebrugge.

The Belgian communique last night stated that the Belgians and French attacked on a front of about twelve miles, between the Handseme canal and the Roulers-Menin road. It announced liberation of the villages of Handseme, Cortemarck, Cite St. Joseph, Hoogled, Beveren, Runbeke, Beythem, Quekene and Winkel St. Eloi.

The allies also are in effective artillery range of the railway from Lille to Thourout by way of Courtrai. This means that the allies dominate the connecting link between the German troops around Lille and those in the Ostend sector.

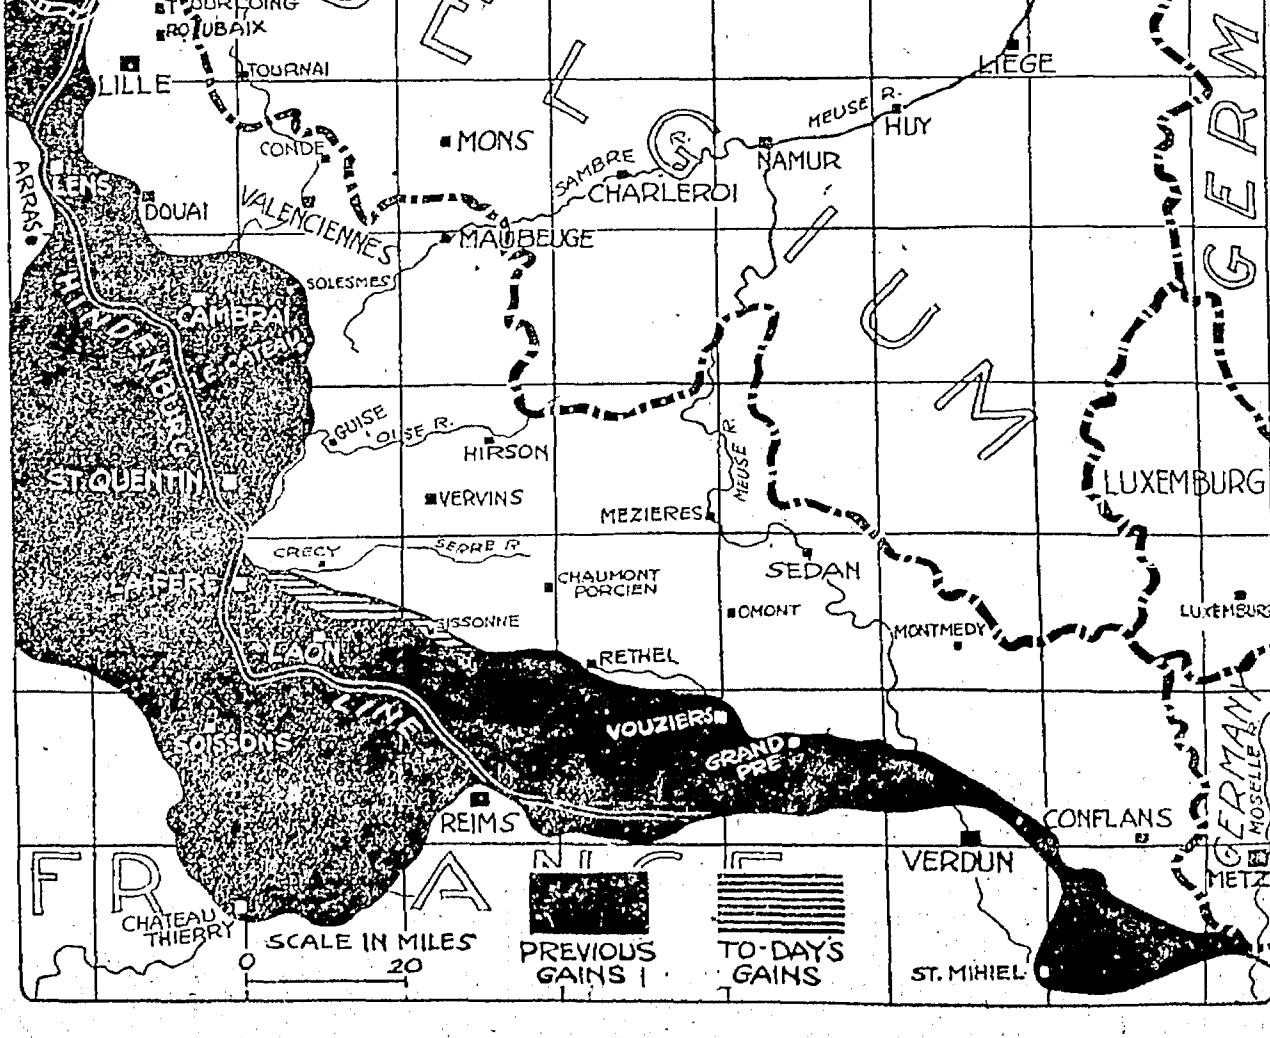

Several of Germany's largest torpedo boats recently left Zeebrugge, one of the German naval bases on the Belgian coast, during a stormy night, according to a Dutch frontier message forwarded from Amsterdam Monday to the Central News Agency. The German warships were filled to their capacity with soldiers and proceeded toward Germany. The Germans also are reported to be evacuating Ostend.

The Germans set fire to Roulers, Cortemarck, Hoogled and Gites. Numerous explosions occurred in Roulers.

The Belgians and French took more than 6000 prisoners, six batteries of artillery and a large amount of materials.

In a special report on the attack, the British war office has announced the capture of Rollegheem, Capelle, Ledeghem and Moorselle.

British troops reached the northern outskirts of Menin. The French and Italians continue to advance on a wide front between

AMERICANS' PATROL WITH BRITISH IN RAIDS

Forces in the Douai-Cambrai Front Cross Selle River and Return With Prisoners; Good Progress Is Reported

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. PARIS, Oct. 15.—French troops have made a big advance toward the important town of Rethel and have captured the town of Nanteuill-Sur-Aisne, two and one-half miles west of Rethel, says the war office statement today.

In the Argonne the French have reached the Aisne west of Grand Pre and have captured the villages of Olizy and Termes. Nearly 500 prisoners were taken in this region.

South of the Serre the French also have made a marked advance. The towns of Remies, Barancon and Monceau-Le-Wast have been taken.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—A patrol of American troops, fighting with the British on the Douai-Cambrai front, crossed the Selle river yesterday afternoon in the neighborhood of St. Souplet, capturing thirty German prisoners, the war office announced today.

Twenty prisoners were taken in successful raids north of Sainghin-en-Weppes, seven and one-half miles southwest of Lille.

The text of the official report follows:

"Yesterday afternoon an American patrol crossed the Selle river in the neighborhood of St. Souplet and captured thirty prisoners. Successful raids were made north of Sainghin-en-Weppes and twenty more prisoners were captured."

U. S. TRANSPORT SINKS AT PIER; NO LIVES LOST

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Reports to the navy department on the sinking of the transport Amerik at her dock today, by the railroad today, said there were 300 soldiers on board in addition to members of the crew and that all hands except three privates and two sailors had been accounted for. It was thought probable that the missing men were safe but had failed to report.

The transport is believed to have been sent down by water pouring into her ports, open for loading coal. She is resting on the bottom on an even keel and wreckers are preparing to raise her. A court of inquiry has been ordered.

French's President at Argonne Front

PARIS, Oct. 15.—President Poincaré visited the Argonne front Sunday. Verdun is still being bombarded daily by long-distance German guns, but the president went to St. Mihiel by the railroad today, through the Meuse valley, which had been out of commission for four years.

An American picket formed the guard of honor for the president during the ceremonies in the St. Mihiel city hall square.

Serbian Forces Win Victory on Morava

LONDON, Oct. 15.—Serbian forces advancing north of Nish on Sunday captured on a large front all the heights which dominate both banks of the Morava, says an official announcement today.

'30' SOUNDED FOR OLD LONG WHARF

Removal of Long Wharf, the famous old wharf extending from the western end of the Oakland Mole, which has been a subject of controversy with the Southern Pacific company for many years, is to be begun immediately, contract for the work of wrecking the old structure having been let today by the Southern Pacific company to the Tibbits-Pacific company.

The contract calls for the removal of the wharf within forty-five days after work has been commenced. The Tibbits-Pacific company is to receive the salvaged piles and timbers and between $20,000 and $30,000 for the job.

The old ordinance granting the Southern Pacific its franchise to the Oakland mole provided that Long wharf should be removed by November 1 of this year. Efforts were made by the corporation to have this order modified, and the matter was taken up with Director General McAdoo some months ago. No change in the removal order has been made, however, and the contract for wrecking the wharf was entered into as a result.

The wharf has been one of the landmarks on the western waterfront for a generation.

BERKELEYAN FOUND DEAD AT LODI FARM

BERKELEY, Oct. 15. — After being missing for a week, Chapin Alva Martin, well known former contractor and rancher of Berkeley, was found dead at his ranch at Lodi yesterday. Martin had gone to Lodi on October 8 to superintend the picking of grapes in his vineyard and had evidently retired to a secluded spot in the ranch to rest when he succumbed to an attack of heart failure. The body was found yesterday by workmen on the ranch among a mass of vines.

Martin was 60 years of age and had made his home in Berkeley for 32 years, first in contracting work, and of late years devoting his time almost entirely to his vineyard. He is survived by a widow, Ellen, Martin, two sons, Rev. Willis Martin of Boise, Idaho, now in France with the U. S. Army, and Lieutenant Leon Martin, former attorney of Berkeley and San Francisco, also in France with the U. S. Army, and two daughters, Mrs. Mabel M. Johnson of Berkeley and Miss Dora Martin, a teacher in the Berkeley schools.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the family residence, 1609 Keith avenue, Rev. E. R. Dille of Alameda officiating. Interment will follow in Sunset View cemetery. The services will be private.

Licenses Unpaid; Inspection Blamed

Because of the failure on the part of city authorities to make the regular inspection, a restaurant, located at 4005 Telegraph avenue, operated by J. Ball, and a rooming house owned by A. Villante, 6008 Telegraph avenue, have not paid their license fees. The matter was reported last night to the authorities by Patrolman J. A. Connolly.

He was in sympathy with Germany and Austria and hoped they would win the war. He will be sentenced next Thursday.

Change Due in "High Places" Edwards Vote Tickles Mayor

Probability that there will be changes among those in "high places" as soon as Commissioner Fred Morse, who today assumed his new office as head of the department of public health and safety, makes up his mind who shall be the new officials, divided interest at the city hall today with speculation and comment on the action of Commissioner Edwards yesterday in favoring the transfer of Morse to this department.

It was Edwards' vote which effected the transfer, although he was known to be in favor of the substitute ordinance which would have put him in charge of the department of public health and safety. Edwards was being removed, Edwards voted as he did, according to his statement afterward, because he believed that there had been a "frame-up" to kill both ordinances.

It came known today that less than fifteen minutes before council was convened Morse and Mayor Davis had held a conference at which the mayor had agreed to stand with Morse for the Edwards transfer, and Morse had declared positively his intention of opposing his own transfer and voting for Edwards. This would have given three votes for the Edwards ordinance, including that of Edwards himself. Morse and Mayor Davis stood by their pact and had Edwards guessed the other way when he was called first on the roll, he would probably today have been commissioner of public health and safety.

MAYOR CHEERFUL. Mayor Davis grinned cheerfully over the affair today, although he had been somewhat annoyed by Edwards' vote yesterday. Commissioner Soderberg, whose ordinance effected the transfer, and who had not expected Edwards to vote with him, was also cheerful.

"I had a hard time not to laugh," said Soderberg. There was a general impression that the change would result in more harmony in the city council in future. Soderberg has been in the past in a hopeless minority. He is today assisted by some cooperation.

"The shift will undoubtedly be for the best," Soderberg said today. "Mr. Morse knows the problems of the department of public works, which he is leaving and I am taking. When I ask for help he will understand the difficulties of that department and will be glad to cooperate."

Dr. Jackson knows the difficulties of the department of public health and safety, and will be inclined to help Commissioner Morse solve the problems in his new position. I know the chief department and can well appreciate the value of what Dr. Jackson will recommend."

Flowers greeted the three commissioners who changed departments in their new offices today. There was a big horseshoe in the office of the department of public health

EASTBAY MEN ARE INFLUENZA VICTIMS

In Lieutenant Edwin McLaren Buser, M. L. Frandy and Reginald Ellis, pneumonia following Spanish influenza, has claimed its toll of Eastbay city men in military service, according to telegrams received by their families.

Lieutenant Buser, son of S. E. Buser, a member of the general staff of the Santa Fe railroad and brother of Mrs. H. W. Whitworth, president of Oakland center, California League, died yesterday at Camp Meade, Maryland. He was attached to the Sixty-third Infantry. Lieutenant Buser was a member of the class of 1920, University of California, and a member of the Phi Delta Theta fraternity and the Social Loiterers of San Francisco. He was stationed at the Presidio before receiving orders to report at Camp Meade on August 12. Burial will take place in Arlington National Cemetery in Washington, D. C.

Frandy was a member of the class of 1918, University of California. He was a big "C" track man and a member of the Sigma Phi Sigma. He was a member of the engineering honor society. His parents reside in Grass Valley. Frandy died at Camp Humphreys.

Mrs. E. D. Ellis, 1414 First avenue, was on her way to work on an Kelly Field, Tex., when word of his death was sent to Oakland. He is 29 years old and enlisted with the quartermasters department shortly after the declaration of war. His father was formerly a councilman in Alameda. The body will be brought to California for interment.

School War Work Plans Are Heard

Mrs. Sue Fratts, recently appointed by the Board of Education to correlate the war work of the school children before the Women's Committee, Council of Defense this morning, outlining the plans for the year.

Modern warfare, demanding the mobilization of the whole country, has not overlooked the schools, and the school curriculum, which has always been static, can not escape the pressure but must be changed to meet the present needs," said Mrs. Fratts.

Seek Missing Boy Who Cashed Checks

The police are searching for Ernest King, 12-year-old boy, who yesterday presented a check in favor of D. Riley on A. Meyer, 1037 Thirty-eighth avenue, for $2.50. The boy told Meyer that Riley wanted to pay his grocery bill. Meyer gave the boy $34.15 in change.

The lad disappeared and has not been heard of since. The matter was reported to the police by Antonio Pagnini, 1214 Forty-first street, a brother-in-law of the boy.

Bowles Will Replace Boegle in Chamber

In addition to his present duties as publicity expert of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, Gene Bowles has been appointed secretary of the manufacturers' association. To fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Fred Boegle Jr., Bowles has become secretary of the Santa Francisco Association of Manufacturers. Bowles will devote the major portion of his time to manufacturing interests.

WIFE-AT-WORK RULE SOFTENED

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 15.—Married men whose wives are self-supporting need not be placed in class one, according to a draft ruling received today by Adjutant-General Barrow from Provost Marshal General Crowder. This reverses the old regulations.

General Barrow interpreted the ruling as meaning that no family man, married prior to the draft, were to be placed in class one, except when they volunteered for service.

Corporal W. H. Pottinger, formerly of Oakland, and a son of Mr. and Mrs. David Pottinger of 2225 Bancroft way, Berkeley, who is editing an aviation paper of one of the nation's camps in Europe, is an advocate of prosecution of the war to a decisive victory for the allies, according to a despatch received here from London today. Pottinger is quoted as saying:

"We can not trust the Germans. We should dictate peace terms. Let us put the finishing touches on the Kaiser."

Other soldiers are quoted in the despatch as follows:

"We want a chance to kick Germany to a finish."

"We don't want an armistice the minute we've got 'em running."

ther German atrocities as soon as the text of President Wilson's decision reaches Berlin. They expect an immediate renewal of submarine warfare on the largest scale possible to the German admiralty. They expect even worse treatment of occupied territory than has been reported in the past. This has been the order of things whenever the German military machine failed to win its point through a campaign of intrigue. But officials made it emphatically plain here today that such action only will make it harder for the Germans when the inevitable end is reached.

PRESIDENT'S STAFF
ENDORSED BY PEOPLE.
From every section today came endorsement of the President's position. His declaration that the military experts of the United States and its allies will have their say when an armistice is arranged means much to the men who are fighting the war. It means that when German centers and foreign of peace will be compelled to furnish guarantees that will entirely protect the victorious allied troops.

According to reports that have reached here the supreme war council at Versailles has adopted a complete program to that end. It comprises holding of important German centers and foreign of peace will be compelled to furnish guarantees that will entirely protect the victorious allied troops.

WILSON'S REPLY APPROVED BY BRITISH.

LONDON, Oct. 15.—President Wilson's reply to Germany is known to be eminently satisfactory to the British. The conditions he outlined coincide not only with the views of the British, but of the other allies as well. Lord Northcliffe's Evening News was the first paper to appear with Wilson's answer, which was printed in splashes of the biggest type, covering half a page. The Rottenhamer press declared the pan-German were most defiant until General Ludendorff arrived in Berlin from the recent conference at great headquarters, when they suddenly changed their tune. It is believed that the German high command admitted the impossibility of a successful defensive warfare and suggested the peace drive.

Amsterdam messages report the German reply to Wilson was hailed with enthusiasm by all except the pan-Germans, who alone showed displeasure. The German press these dispatches said, are trying to re-establish the old system.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—France stands firm on the Berlin proposition. The people showed practically no excitement during the crisis of the correspondence with President Wilson.

They went about their business precisely the same as usual. Newspapers were unanimous in the declaration that the allies must obtain the absolute, unconditional surrender of Germany, Austria and Turkey and the fullest guarantees.

"We are living in the most tragic moment of the history of all cen-

TEXT OF PRESIDENT WILSON'S REPLY TO FOE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Following is the reply of President Wilson to Germany's note regarding an armistice:

"In reply to the communication of the German government dated the 12th instant, which you handed me today, I have the honor to request you to transmit the following answer:

"The unqualified acceptance by the present German government of the Reichstag of the terms laid down by the President of the United States of America in his address to the Congress of the United States on January 18, 1918, and in his subsequent addresses justifies the President in making a frank and direct statement of his decision with regard to the communications of the German government of the 8th and 12th of October, 1918.

"It must be clearly understood that the process of evacuation and the conditions are associated with the judgment and advice of the military advisers of the government of the United States and the allied governments, and the President feels it his duty to say that no arrangement can be accepted by the government of the United States which does not provide absolutely satisfactory safeguards and guarantees of the maintenance of the present military supremacy of the armies of the United States and the allies in the field.

"He feels confident that he can safely assume that this will also be the judgment and decision of the allied governments.

"The President feels that it is also his duty to add that neither the government of the United States nor, he is quite sure, the governments with which the government of the United States is associated, will consent to consider an armistice so long as the armed forces of Germany continue the illegal and inhuman practices which they still persist in.

"Deputy Paul Maunier said: 'One lone man can now decide the fate of the world. This man is worthy of his unprecedented role; all humanity has its eyes fixed upon him.'

La Presse declared, after referring to President Wilson's position, that the German government belongs to Wilson. It belongs to Generalissimo Foch, who, by virtue of his office, represents all the general staffs and all the entire belligerents. One of two things is true—either Germany must recognize she is vanquished and accept the situation; or else she will not recognize defeat but will attempt to escape by means of getting an armistice. Thus, guarantees are necessary for the safety of France and the world."

AMSTERDAM, Oct. 15.—The German government has proposed to France that in common with the allies France undertake to refrain from bombarding the large towns of Northern France and enter into an agreement with Germany to permit any rate the portion of the population of Valenciennes to pass into the French lines, says an official statement from Berlin.

The Berlin government in making this proposal represented itself as unable to prevent the eastward flight of the population of Valenciennes, owing to their fears that the allies would bombard the town. The proposal was made through the Swiss government.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—France stands firm on the Berlin proposition. The people showed practically no excitement during the crisis of the correspondence with President Wilson.

"At the very time that the German government approaches the government of the United States with proposals of peace, its submarines are engaged in sinking passenger ships at sea and not the ships alone, but the very boats in which the passengers and crews seek to make their way to safety; and in their present enforced withdrawal from Flanders and France, the German armies are pursuing a course of wanton destruction which has always been regarded as in direct violation of the rules and practices of civilized warfare. Cities and villages, if not destroyed, are being stripped of all they contain not only, but often, of their very inhabitants. The nations associated against Germany cannot be expected to agree to a cessation of arms while acts of inhumanity, spoliation and desolation are being continued which they justly look upon with horror and with burning hearts.

"It is necessary, also, in order that the war may be brought to a just and honorable conclusion, that the President should very solemnly call the attention of the government of Germany to the language and plain intent of one of the terms of peace which the German government has now accepted. It is contained in the address of the President delivered at Mount Vernon on the Fourth of July last. It is as follows:

"The destruction of every arbitrary power anywhere that can choose to disturb the peace of the world; or if it cannot be presently destroyed, at least its reduction to virtual impotency."

CARD CLUBS' PERMITS MAY BE REVOKED

Revocation of all card club permits, massage parlor permits, and permits held by clairvoyants, coothsayers and mediums will be recommended to Chief of Police J. H. Nedderman by Captain Thervald Brown, head of the police neutrality bureau, to which the chief has assigned the functions of the moral squad as well. Brown stated today that he would seek to have the chief have the city council pass upon the matter.

The revocation of these permits would aid in the work of the neutrality bureau and the moral squad. He declared that card club permits have resulted in playing cards money even where there is no "take out" for percentage purposes, thus bringing the game within the meaning of the laws against gambling. Many of these clubs, however, have been merely the rendezvous for men who will now be rounded up under the "work or fight" legislation.

Massage parlor permits have also been a source of trouble, and their elimination, according to Brown, will clear the moral atmosphere of the city. The revocation of the licenses of clairvoyants and mediums would follow complaints that these fortune tellers and seers have been making a handsome profit out of the relatives of men at the front, and that they have been fleeing these persons under the pretext of telling them news of their loved ones, gained from the spirit world.

DR. SMITH LEAVES FOR HONOLULU

Dr. Kirby Smith, U. S. A. Medical Corps, former health officer of Oakland, left today for Honolulu, to await army orders as to the post to which he will be assigned. He has been given to understand that he will be sent shortly to the front, possibly Siberia.

Dr. E. F. Jones, city bacteriologist, is being considered for Dr. Smith's place, and is now acting health officer, before leaving. Dr. Smith strongly recommended the appointment of Dr. Jones.

If Dr. Jones is appointed health officer, E. F. Jones, assistant bacteriologist, probably will be promoted to position of bacteriologist. She has been with the department since early in 1917, is a recognized expert, having been graduated from the State University and the College of Medicine of the University.

Dr. Jones has been in practice in Oakland for the past two years. He is a graduate of the medical department of the University of Vermont, and was for several years health officer of Harrisburg, Vt.

ALIEN ENEMY LAW ENDS HIS WANDERINGS

Investigation by federal authorities of the case of O. W. Schmidt, who has been held for three weeks as an alien enemy, has disclosed the fact that Schmidt is Charles La Grande Davis, formerly a prominent attorney of Adrian, Mich., who mysteriously disappeared from that city twenty-five years ago.

The man was taken into custody on the charge of having failed to register under the enemy alien law, and the identification was made by Special War Attorney Charles Halliday. Facing internment for the period of the war as a dangerous alien enemy Davis divulged the story of his wanderings.

He was born in Warsaw, Ind., in 1837, his father being William Benjamin Davis, a veteran of the civil war. Davis was graduated from a law college at Adrian in 1855, one of his classmates being Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, who now lives in Lansing, Mich.

Grieved by the loss of litigation for which he was counsel, Davis, according to his story, dropped out of sight. He went to Mexico and lived in that country for many years. Again he started to wander and went to Oregon, finally settling in Modesto.

According to Davis, during all the years of his absence from home he never communicated with friends or relatives.

In an effort to hide his identity completely, Davis assumed the name of Schmidt. He now desires, he says, to assume American citizenship.

The story told Attorney Halliday has been verified in every detail, it is stated. Halliday has been requested by Davis' relatives to ask the long-absent man to communicate with them.

Foreign Born to Meet for Bonds

Foreign born American Italians and American Portuguese will hold a meeting tonight in Souza Hall, Forty-seventh avenue, Melrose, in conjunction with a series of meetings being held by the Foreign Legion of the Liberty loan committee. Speeches will be made in the Italian, Portuguese and English languages. J. S. Sullivan will preside at the meeting, which has been called for the purpose of stimulating the purchase of Liberty bonds by the local Italians and Portuguese.

LABOR NOTES

A satisfactory adjustment of the wage scale for riggers at the newly operative steel shipbuilding plant of the Union Construction company on the Oakland waterfront has been made. Representatives of the Iron Workers and the Shipyard Riggers' unions, now co-operating in a plan for the amputation of the two crafts, visited the management of the Union Construction Company and called attention to the fact that the riggers employed at the plant were receiving $3.50 per day, whereas the union scale is $7 per day. This matter was straightened out at once by the company agreeing to pay the higher wage.

Clifford V. Barney, recently seriously wounded in action in France, is the son of C. E. Barney, a well-known union shingler of this city. For many years the senior Barney has been a delegate in the local Building Trades Council.

The members of Painters' Union No. 127 of Oakland have been instructed to report their individual subscriptions to the fourth Liberty loan to the officers of the union, together with the amount subscribed and the place of purchase.

chase. The object of the order is to facilitate a complete checking up of bond-buying members and to ascertain the names of those members of the union who have not as yet subscribed to the loan. The union, an organization, has purchased $2000 worth of the bond issue.

John R. Alpine, acting president of the American Federation of Labor during the absence of President Samuel Gompers in France, has clearly and forcefully defined the attitude of the Federation toward the new German peace proposal in a telegraphic letter to the American Alliance of Labor, a copy of which has reached local labor headquarters. In part the message reads as follows:

"The voice of the American labor movement tells us to ignore the recent peace proposals of the German government, and to batter away at the enemy lines until the road is cleared to Berlin and a peace then effected that will last for all time and rid the world of the evils that have beset us for over four years. The workers of our country refuse to be deluded by what we believe to be this last attempt to deceive. We want peace, but we want such a peace as will insure freedom and democracy for all the world and for all time. There can be no peace except it be such a peace as has been envisioned by the President of our country. When he declares the time at hand for peace negotiations the workers will be with him."

Reports to the Building Trades Council from the unions affiliated therewith demonstrate that they are all purchasing bonds as an organization and that the members are doing the same.

Mrs. M. A. Kirkbride gives the following testimonial: "October 7th, 1918: 'Every day for eleven years I suffered from Asthma, which became so severe I could neither lie down nor stand up. My stomach was full of gas with an awful noise. I was a nervous wreck and could hardly get my breath and I had even to take a drink. I had taken treatments from many doctors for years, tried various kinds of preparations and compounds of medicines, but found no relief. Fortunately, I saw an advertisement of Fong Wan's wonderful cures made from herbs. I decided to try. After I drank their herb tea for several weeks I feel an entirely new woman and am free from Asthma. I appreciate this marvelous remedy from herbs. I am glad to offer my personal testimonial.'"

OAKLAND MARKET PLAN IS PRAISED

Approval of the work of Oakland women in conducting a war market to help conserve food and stimulate war garden production is expressed in a letter addressed by Secretary P.
S. Hildsley of the National War
Garden Commission, Washington, D.
C., to Mrs. James Hamilton, supervisor of the local market. The letter follows:

"I am greatly indebted to you for your kindness in giving me the valuable information you do in yours of the 18th. It will be a very considerable service to the commission in establishing municipal free markets throughout the country. I consider this one of the most interesting developments in the war garden movement and I wish to congratulate you upon the practical and energetic way in which you have gone into the matter, and upon the success which your able management has achieved. You will not mind, I am sure, the commission quoting in its newspaper service the development of the market idea under your direction at Oakland. It will serve as an example for encouraging similar developments in other cities. The photographs which you sent me have arrived and are excellent. We will use them all."

Yours very sincerely,

FIRST WELL DAY IN FIVE YEARS

Misery He Suffered Was Awful, Says Harrell; Tanlac Brings Relief.

"It's a positive fact that Tanlac brought me the first relief I was ever able to get from anything I have taken in the past five years," said Harrell, living at the Chapman Hotel,
201 East Fifth street, the other day.
Before coming to Los Angeles Harrell ran a farm in Gen county, Idaho, and was afterwards employed in the shipyards at Portland, Ore.
"I have been a farmer most of my life," he continued, "and the work is mighty trying when a man is not in condition to stand it. Several years ago when I began to go down hill, lost my appetite and the little I did eat would sour on my stomach and bloat me up till I could hardly get my breath. The misery I suffered was something awful and it was going on most every day. My blood was poor and thin, one minute I felt like I was burning up with fever and the next a chilly feeling would almost make me shiver. My head was filled with cataracts and the mucus that gathered in my throat would almost choke me at times. I just couldn't get any rest at night and would feel so tired and worn out in the morning that I could hardly drag myself off to work. I had no life nor energy about me, and felt so drowsy and heavy that I really wasn't fit for work, for I was just about down and out. My strength was leaving me, too, and I felt that I just had to do something to get relief or I might break down altogether."
"I tried several different medicines but nothing did me any good. Then I heard that Tanlac was a fine blood purifier and stomach medicine, so I got a bottle a few weeks ago. I began to improve right from the start, and have been getting better ever since. I can eat most anything I want and am never troubled with sour stomach or gas like I was before. In fact I have been entirely relieved of my indigestion and haven't a sign of it left. That awful cataract is almost gone and my head and throat are clearer than they have been in a long time. I sleep like a log at night and get up in the morning feeling just fine and dandy. I am gaining strength every day and if I continue to improve like I am doing now it won't be long before I shall be as well and strong as I ever was,
and ready for any kind of work."
Tanlac is sold in San Francisco and Oakland by The Owl Drug Company stores.—Advertisement.

Miss Mouser Becomes Bride Of Lieut. Pratt

The Interdenominational Church in Piedmont was the setting for the marriage last evening at 8 o'clock of Miss Madeline Mouser, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin Trux, of Piedmont, and Lieutenant Francis Stowell Pratt, U. S. A., the guest list being limited to the immediate friends of the bride's family and those of the bridegroom. The altar was banked in autumn foliage and the ceremony was read by Rev. C. H. Milliken, pastor of the Piedmont Church.

The bride, who was groomed in the conventional white, was attended by her sister, Miss Trux Mouser, as maid of honor, and two bridesmaids, Miss Jeanette Maxwell and Miss Georgia Robbins. Lieutenant Pratt is a former Stanford graduate and is now in the service in Washington, which is to be the future home of the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Verne S. Hardy of Berkeley have returned from a trip through the south part of the state and are now en route to Salt Lake City for a visit to extend over two weeks.

Mrs. William White, wife of Lieutenant-Colonel White, who is now in France, is the guest of Mrs. Hardy.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Henderson of Berkeley are home from a motor trip which took them through Southern California, stopping en route at the various places of interest to the motorist.

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Paul O. Tietzen of Claremont were host and hostess at an informal dinner for fourteen guests, entertaining them at the Palace Hotel across the bay.

THE STRUGGLE

COLD WATER

Excited by her adventure, Edith hurried home. So fast did plans take shape in her eager mind that by the time she reached her room she had mentally filled a whole row of mince-meat jars, while neat little chocolate cakes and crisp cookies danced before her eyes. She kissed the welcoming kiddies with a single glance to their general messiness and the state of their stockings. She hugged little Jack an extra time or two out of sheer high spirits.

"Make me some tandy, muvver?" he piped up, his shrewd baby brain taking instant advantage of the maternal amiability.

"Yes, sonny darling, I'll make you and sister some tandy if you promise to keep it out of your hair and ears. Oh, Jackie-baby, it's a good world, isn't it? Jackie nodded solemnly. Any world was good that had tandy in it and no scolding for dirty faces and scuffed boots.

"Mother's going to make lots of good things!" Edith went on in her happy mood. "A wonderful old lady with white color hair and a fairy book house over Danville way is going to buy our cakes and jellies, Jack. What do you think of that, son?"

"Will we be rich, muvver? And can I have a skate-rod?" "—and—"

"Perhaps you can, baby-sweet. Now go run with sister." And Edith fled on her apron and bustled about, singing for gladness. She was actually scolding the order grocer, forgot Lillian Blake's prediction that no profit would be made unless she did things over the counter, and forgot her imperative need for money with which to buy materials. If the lovely Mrs. Carter so readily bought without even seeing samples, other customers, of course, would follow.

"No joy—joy—was indeed a good word, full of nice people and pleasant work, and hope and rewards—"

The door opened suddenly and John came in.

"Why, you're earlier than usual, dear!" cried Edith, patting his face with hastily-wiped hands. "Did you catch the 4:30?"

"No, 5:15 as usual. What's the matter, lost track of the time?"

"Guess I must have. But dinner'll be ready in three shakes of a lamb's tail. Got grapefruit salad and apple trifle, and—"

Edith was wise enough to keep her news until after dinner. The meal was delicious and the male of the species, relaxing pleasantly over his coffee and cigar, appeared auspiciously approachable.

"Oh, by the way, dear, I've something to tell you. I'm—I'm a professional singer. I've been singing in the choir at St. Peter's, and—"

"The stars represent the silence in John's quarter of the room following his wife's speech. The speech had been delivered with the carefully planned sprightliness a woman employs when there is a shadow of doubt lurking at the bottom of her mind that the response will be what she hopes. The silence was the fear come true. Every wife knows that a husband's silence is the lead to a falling of heart engendered by them."

"Ah, I might have known he wouldn't take it right; that he wouldn't understand it. He's thought that follows. Now you've got to spend a lot of money," was John's reply. "And get all worn out and be disappointed for your pains! I can tell you right now it won't pay. Those things have to be done on a big scale. You'll get this one order, and no more, probably. Besides, I don't want you cooking for other women for money. It's a foolish idea, Edie. Even Lil Blake says so. She—"

"Go Lil Blake! She's been discussing my plans with you, has she? Edith's voice was carefully held in. "It didn't take her long to have her pretty penny over her head. She's got it off her head."

"She didn't care to explain Lil's scheme to get gowns on credit and her resentment because Edith would not listen—because I wouldn't take her advice on something," she finished. "Oh, Jackie, be nice, and let me try to experiment. It won't take much money."

For a moment his head, not angrily, but with a half smile as he looked steadily at his wife. It irritated her. "I must fill Mrs. Carter's order," she said quietly. "I'll find money somehow."

Uncle Wiggily And the Bent Pin

(By Howard R. Garis.)

When Uncle Wiggily Longears, the bunny rabbit gentleman, stopped in the hollow stump school, during his way through the woods one day the lady mouse teacher, seeing him, stepped out and said:

"I'm afraid I don't know my lessons well enough," answered the bunny rabbit, making-believe bashful-like and shy.

"Oh, that's all right," spoke the lady mouse teacher of the hollow stump school. "I don't think you come in to say any lessons. I thought perhaps you'd like to hear the animal children recite some pieces. This is Friday afternoon, you know."

"So it will come," exclaimed Uncle Wiggily. "I will come."

Into the school he went, most politely taking off his tall silk hat, and there in their seats he saw Susie Little, the rabbit girl; Poppy and Whitey, the little piglets; Jacko and Jimmie, the monkeys; Lulu, Alice and Jimmie, the ducks, and the "Johnnie Bushytail," the squirrel.

But where lay Billy Bushytail? I don't know," said Uncle Wiggily, looking around.

"Oh, I'm sorry to say, Billy was bad today," explained the lady mouse teacher. "He had to make him stand in a corner all by himself."

"What did Billy do?"

"He put a bent pin in the seat, just as Sammy Bushytail was going to say," explained the lady mouse teacher. "The pin was bent so the sharp point went into the seat."

"My goodness," went on Uncle Wiggily. "And did Sammie sit on it?"

"Just a little," Uncle Wiggily answered Sammie for himself. "Then I felt something funny and I sat up quick and saw the pin."

"I should say so," spoke the bunny rabbit gentleman. "I am surprised at you. You looked so sure of yourself, and you were standing in a corner by yourself, while the other animal boys and girls were reciting."

"I am surprised, also," said the lady mouse. "But I had to punish Billy in the corner."

"Oh, of course," agreed Uncle Wiggily. "Did he say he was sorry, Miss Mouse?"

"Not yet, but I'm hoping he will. Then I'll let him take his seat. But you must hear the children recite."

So Jimmie and Lillian Longtail, the mouse boy and girl, spoke the piece which was called with a piece of cheese.

"Wobble, the duck, recited 'A fox went out in a hungry plight,' and Jole, the kitten boy, spoke 'Hill-diddle-diddle, the cat's in the fiddle,' while Jacko, the monkey, recited 'Old Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard to get her poor dog a bone.'"

And all the while Billy Bushytail, the squirrel boy, had to stand in the corner, and the bent pin was on the desk of the lady mouse teacher.

"The children did fine," said Uncle Wiggily, clapping his paws. "I never heard better reciting before."

But just then, all of a sudden, in through the open window of the school came a bad old Squeegie. Now a Squeegie is like a football pump, only worse. It eats nothing but apples with sauce served on, and the Squeegie was after Uncle Wiggily.

"And I think I love you, too!" cried the Squeegie as he hopped down on the lady mouse teacher's desk. "I'll eat all the polka for the Squeegie to do this. But all of a sudden, no sooner had he got to the desk, and was stretching forth his paw to grab Uncle Wiggily, than, all of a sudden, he jumped the Squeegie, crying—"

"Oh! Ouch! Oh, I'm stammered! So much so that I can't say a word. I'm all mixed up, and away out of the window he jumped, and, as he did so, the bent pin, which was on the teacher's desk, fell to the floor."

"Oh, he sat down on the bent pin," cried the animal children. "The Squeegie sat on the bent pin and that's what made him hurry so. The Squeegie was very glad and he said: 'Are you sorry, Billie, for trying to eat Sammie Littletail all on the bent pin?'"

Doll Show to Aid Seventy Little Orphans

By GEORGIA G. BORDWELL.

Seventy little children, between the ages of three and fourteen, orphaned, deserted or destitute, who have found a place to sleep, something to eat, something to wear, the privilege of going to school home, so truth—are about to come before the people of Oakland to ask for some help for the continuance of that home.

They are the inspiration of the women, who every year work for the success of the Doll Show—the women who make the West Oakland Home, possibly the State's and the home to the extent of $6 a month, for the orphans and the half-orphan; this last year that aid amounts to less than a thousand dollars—it is paid every six months—and the running expenses of the home are $1500 a month. Even the littlest children there could figure out that seventeen thousand dollars will have to be the gift of Oakland.

That gift the people are promised three days and nights of charming gaiety. The doll show will be held on the evening of the 22, when there will be a dinner dance. The hall room of the West Oakland Home will be the scene of the party, the setting for this big affair, which will be the one time that the West Oakland Home will come before the public, and year, giving it the chance to contribute to the health and happiness of seventy little children.

WHY NOT GIVE VICTROLA TO BOYS? Over in one of the shipyards a submarine is being built, and over at the Defenders Club are some of the fresh faced young chaps who are waiting for its completion, that they may go down into the sea. They are waiting for the wait they turn on the victrola and revel in songs about when the cows come home, and about their sweethearts who are waiting for them at the kitchen door.

Often after an evening of this delightful music, the boys have been heard to say: "I wouldn't it be fine to have a victrola to take with us, and why not, say the ones who have overheard them. Just a small one that can be tucked away in shipboard manner when the duties of submerging take their attention and some records, the kind the boys like."

Any one who has such a victrola and would like to give it to the boys who will go aboard their ship in Oakland estuary very soon now, will please send it to the Defenders Club, Lakeside 5726.

The Mothers' Clubs of Fremont and High, Melrose grammar and W. P. Frick schools will hold a union dance on Friday, October 19, at the High school, 20 at Redman's Hall, Elmhurst, the proceeds to be devoted to the purchase of victrolas for the club gives much time.

The Elmhurst Mothers' Club, whose membership drive is resulting in new members every week, will give a party on October 20 at Redman's Hall, Elmhurst, the proceeds to be devoted to the purchase of victrolas for the club gives much time.

RECIPROCITY LUNCHEON HAS BEEN POSTPONED. The Reciprocity Luncheon, which was to have been given by the California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher Associations, Second District, at the St. Francis Hotel next Friday, has been postponed, and as yet no future date has been set. Several reasons conspired to make the date impracticable, not the least of which was the sudden death of Victor's wife, as every one knows, and the famous chef of the hotel and was full of enthusiasm over the very special menu, which out of regard for the mothers, he was going to prepare for their enjoyment; partly out of respect for Victor's sorrow the mothers have only one more thing to do.

The executive board will meet at 10 o'clock Friday morning at the Palace of Fine Arts. Mrs. A. A. Alker, president of the Second District, presiding.

The second drive of the Children's Year, the weighing and measuring campaign, which was to have commenced yesterday, and for which elaborate plans had been made, has been postponed until a later date, as one of the precautionary measures against the dissemination of the dreaded influenza. Dr. Anna Smith, charge of the clinic at the Palace of Fine Arts, will, after a meeting with her excellent committee, announce further plans.

CLUB EVENTS ON CALIFORNIA FOR TOMORROW. Tomorrow's club calendar shows the following meetings:

Oakland Club—Red Cross sewing day from 1:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. Mrs. I. C. Petray, chairman. This section made fifteen refugee jackets during September.

Rockledge Woman's Club—Community singing at 9:45 a. m. under the leadership of Miss Edith Andrews and popular songs of France and the reading of a paper on "La Marseillaise" by Mrs. Elliott will go to make up the program.

Coffroth Will Aid War Work in East

Captured Huns Are Glad to Quit War

"Ninety or a hundred thousand captured Germans seemed very much pleased that their fighting days were over," Herman Gergens, brother-in-law of James Garvin of the Oakland police force, wrote from the front a few days ago, in telling of his experiences. He has been through experiences, according to his letter, that have made every moment of his life at the front filled with interest.

Gergens, who left Oakland a first lieutenant, just when the United States entered the war, is now a captain in the Seventeenth Field Artillery. His letter, received by Mrs. James Garvin of 627 Vienna avenue, Oakland, yesterday, does not mention his rise in rank, but information in this regard was received by Mrs. Garvin from Washington only a week ago and her brother had not known of the new commission when he wrote the letter.

Portions of the letter follow: "I have only seen about 90,000 or 100,000 German prisoners and they seem very much pleased to know that their fighting days are over. I had quite a talk with some young prisoners the other day and they were very glad to have been taken. They said that when they heard the Americans were coming they got on their best clothes and threw away their guns and came over with a smile on their faces."

FIGHT!

There will be no cessation of hostilities, no talk of an armistice with Germany at present. And when, if ever, an armistice is granted it will be at the decision of the military commanders of the Ally forces.

This is the information President Wilson yesterday sent to the governing powers at Berlin. That was an answer that sent a thrill through the Ally countries.

The President's note to Prince Max was a terse and precisely accurate statement of American sentiment. In every word and syllable is expressed the plain logic of historic and present circumstances. It was the one reply which the military, political and spiritual situation of the Ally world demanded be sent forthwith to Germany.

In this instance, if never before, President Wilson has caught the heartbeat of the American people and translated it into words of sharp and unmistakable clearness. They mean war until a victory is won that will insure that Germany never again will break the peace.

WHO ARE THE QUITTERS?

Five days, after this one is closed, remain in which to subscribe to the Fourth Liberty Loan Bond. Every district in Alameda county has taken up its quota or is in striking distance of the top—except Oakland.

This city is approximately $6,000,000 behind its quota.

Forty-five percent of its quota of $13,000,000 remains to be subscribed.

This is the situation squarely facing the citizens of Oakland. There is no way around. They must accept their duty and render service against the nation's enemy or turn tail and quit.

It is unthinkable that any should accept the latter alternative. But if they do not they will invest their dollars with the government at interest until the government announces that it has enough.

TRADE ROUTES.

A correspondent of the Christian Science Monitor at Christobel, Panama Canal Zone, sends to his journal an interesting story of the economic effects of the war on prices and trade routes in South America. It is a typical incident that is related and deserves very serious thought by those merchants and shippers of the Pacific Coast who have had in their mind's eye a notable increase in the Pacific trade between the United States and South and Central America.

According to this account the high prices of commodities on the Pacific slope of the Andes has caused the shipment of manufactured goods all the way up the Amazon to Manaus by ocean-going vessels, thence to the headwaters of the Putumayo in river vessels, and thence across the Andean Cordilleras by pack train to some of the Colombian cities in the Andean ranges, where the goods are sold more cheaply than they can be imported from the Pacific side. This is said to be the first time in the history of South America that such a thing has happened. The distance from the Atlantic to these cities is more than 3,000 miles; from the Pacific less than 500.

The correspondent says there are three principal causes for the new conditions and proceeds to discuss them as follows:

"One is that the route for goods from Spain to the mouth of the Amazon is shorter than that from other countries of origin from which imports might be obtained, or from Spain itself, freer from submarine danger, and almost outside of the war zone. Since so few goods are now obtainable from the United States, as formerly, when the New York-Panama-West Coast route was much shorter than the Cadiz-Paraná route, the American competition is greatly reduced; and competition from other European countries is both subject to the submarine menace, to the paucity of exports available, and to war embargoes.

"Another is that local manufacturers in Eastern South America are now highly favored by the shortage of tonnage available for overseas traffic, and by the demands farther north for all the output of American and European factories.

Goods made in Buenos Aires and Rio de Janeiro are being shipped in coasting vessels, steam and sail, to the ports of Brazil, and these are free from the risks encountered by their former competitors in the carrying trade, as well as from high insurance rates and similar expenses. Schooners are being built for this trade, and these local manufacturers are being stimulated as never before.

"The third cause is the high prices on the Pacific everywhere due to the inability of Pacific ports to get tonnage. Japan has been making something out of this condition but her contribution to the needs of the Allies has been such as to prevent her from contributing effectively to any lowering of prices."

The experience of the merchants of Andean Colombia indicates that South America is making progress along the road toward economic independence. Goods from the great coast metropolis of Buenos Aires and Rio are reaching the most remote places of the interior by the most roundabout and difficult routes. Imports must in the future enter into a constantly growing competition with native products.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES.

Will it help any citizen who has hesitated about investing in government war bonds to know something of what application is being made of the money advanced? Figures compiled by the War Department do not compass in practical brevity all the story, but they give some idea of the achievements in translating American dollars into America war effort.

First there is a heartening comparison of the production of war material in August, 1917, and August a year later. To maintain the present rate of production and to increase it where desirable requires more dollars:

	1917.	1918.
Artillery guns complete with carriage	161
Artillery ammunition (types in France)	1,945,428
Shells	1,163,215
Shrapnel	782,213
Machine guns	855	25,447
Rifles	13,000	263,383
Pistols and revolvers	6,908	71,900
Small arms ammunition (rounds)	7,000,000	337,732,000
Propellants and explosives (rounds)		52,890,000
Tractors		484

Below are mentioned articles purchased and delivered to the military establishment up to September 1, 1918. The navy is another story. Figures for the army are sufficient to satiate the appetite of those who want details. Over 3,200,000 men were added to the army between the declaration of war and September 1. We omit the cost of building and equipping the various training cantonnements, the artillery, small arms, ammunitions, gas masks, motors and bombs—all the implements of battle. The following is a partial list:

Shoes, marching and field, 27,276,000; coats, cotton and wool, total 19,537,000; breeches, cotton and wool, total 29,820,000; shirts, cotton and flannel, total 25,487,000; undershirts, cotton and winter, total 83,971,000; drawers, cotton and winter, total 83,042,000; stockings, cotton and wool, total 156,672,000; hats, service, 7,779,000; blankets, 21,005,000; bacon, 11,451,670 pounds; flour, 625,461,392 pounds; dry beans, 102,894,742 pounds; rice, 38,421,236 pounds; tomatoes, 72,274,529 cans; sugar, 186,582,816 pounds. Rolling kitchens to properly prepare this food, 15,000. Then there was 1,064,251 tons of hay and 592,749 tons of oats, 278,732 horses and 131,917 mules. As a necessity for the transportation of materials and men by land, 106,000 motor trucks, 10,700 passenger cars, 54,400 motorcycles, 11,500 bicycles, and 15,000 cargo and tank trailers have been provided.

In air service, twenty-nine flying fields thoroughly equipped for the training of America's flying forces; this in addition to the American airplanes and assembly fields in France and England. Nearly 7,000 training planes, 1,140 De Havilland planes, 7,647 Liberty motors, and 12,500 training engines.

The war tide is seriously disturbing the betrothal of the Luxembourg princess to Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria. The betrothal was not popular in the Grand Duchy to begin with, but at the time it was contracted the situation was not favorable for a very vigorous protest. Now that the German retreat is on, with a prospect of the German forces soon being beyond the borders of the duchy, public disapproval is manifest in a decided way. The Luxembourgish do not relish a closer intimacy with German rule, and the prospect of the betrothal being declared off is rather more than even.

THE POTATO JOINS THE HUNS.

A paradox on the broadening efforts America and her allies are making to make the world safe for democracy is the way these mighty efforts are lifting a lot of humble products into the realm of autocracy. Take, for example, the potato, for centuries the most democratic of democrats of them all.

Announcement comes from Yukima, which is the potato heaven of the Northwest, that the growers have agreed upon a price of $10 a ton this year for the tubers—a price, by the way, which is not much more than double the prices of peace time, at which the potato cultivator always made fairly good money. Cost is guerre, of course.

The grand champion of democracy—the product that adorned the table of partizan and plobian alike—now takes unto itself the attributes of greatness, the pomp and circumstance of royalty. Some things are great, others assume greatness and a few have greatness thrust upon them—as for instance, the potato.

From the bourgeoisie "spud in jacket" to the aristocratic "great big baked," recently deposed by food administration edict, the all-essential tuber has undoubtedly been the makings of a nation. The present tendency of the market gives rise to the fear that it may yet be the finish of a nation.—Spokane Spokesman Review.

NOTES and COMMENT

This peace proposition suggests a picture of the Kaiser hiding behind the hedge while the subservient ones rings the door, bell to find out whether the household will accept the story and come through with the handout.

We should observe how thoroughly the patriotic spirit permeates to every corner. The inmates of San Quentin have subscribed $1450 to the Fourth Liberty Loan.

Whole cookery has been made familiar, but many must be deficient in shark cookery. Because of this war many things get cooked that were not cooked before—and some of them get eaten.

The sinking of the Lusitania gave great acceleration to the charge of barbarity against the Huns, and the sinking of the Leinster has not by any means lessened the conviction. The latter is peculiarly aggravating, as it is coincident with a pretended peace movement.

The conservative party in the Reichstag has published a declaration to the effect that "all abandonment of foreign soil is irreconcilable with German honor." There is that word again, "Honor!" Discussion of all peace matters should be couched in appropriate language. A word in a connection that is palpably humorous should be eschewed.

Spain at last decides to seize German ships. This is indication that Germany's situation looks hopeless to its dearest friend.

Banker Lynch voices the American sentiment when he says that "peace talk can wait; the loan can't." There is enough suspicion that the peace proposal was sprung as propaganda to justify its very deliberate consideration.

The anomaly of railroads discouraging travel occurs in England also. It could not have been imagined in normal times that any situation could possibly eventuate that would reverse a policy that had always been necessary to railroad prosperity. But this is only one of the strange results of this world war.

A heading reads, "Undertakers Plan to Boom Their Trade." Which justifies the observation that we are being boomed unto death.

The "Princess Pats" claim an unusual and unique distinction. Practically every one of the original 1000 of this famous regiment has been killed or wounded. The survivors and successors seem immensely proud of it. Which is a very fine exhibition of "the spirit."

In a letter to the home folks, one who is at the front tells that the soldiers read Testaments. They get light as though they were keyed up by a righteous sense of things.

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

"Yanks" isn't more elegant than "Summers," but it has a lot more ginger in it, so the boys let it go for a man. For that matter, "Gobs" as a nickname for sailors hasn't much to recommend it to the layman, but the Jack tars eat it up. All the whims of the world are not hung around the necks of women.—Stockton Record.

The local Liberty Loan committee is training the big gun of pitiless publicity on the rich slacker, and when it goes off—bang! goes his good name in the community forever.—Chicago Enterprise.

The thyroid, adrenal and other glands are in this war designed to supply the human personality with only the exact amount of its substance necessary to combat and counteract the influence of weakness or ill health.

Santa Cruz, with her eleven Rodriguez sons in the army, is not the champion of the country after all. Here is an honest to goodness despatch from Raleigh, N. C., telling of a colored man named Ward, of Goldsboro, who has thirteen sons in the Ninth and Tenth Cavalry and seventeen daughters busy with war work.—Stockton Record.

"ON TO BERLIN"

"On to Berlin" is no Yankee jest. It is the battle cry of a long-razed people so kind and peaceable that nothing can now prevent them from striking Germany's murder man from his throne. The rumbling of those tumbling walls will be sweet music to Freedom's ears all over the earth.

Release a rat from the jaws of a steel trap and he will bite your thumb through. That is Prussianism. That is the Kaiser. That is German militarism. The only peace the Kaiser has after availing himself of blood—that is the only peace Prussianism cares for. Her insanity of power and the slaughter of the innocents, her immeasurable and non-stop hunger demand utter extinction. Beware of the pacifist who has already degenerated to a Prussian. Beware of the pacifist who is now helping the Kaiser to butcher the world. America must deal summarily with this whole brood of Berlin. The Kaiser and his ilk are crazy. They will not reckon with humanity on any rational terms. It is idle to chatter about a treaty of peace with a drunkard. Nothing but their destruction can make the world safe.—Chicago Evening Post.

HEALTH and HAPPINESS

Knowledge of Compresses and Poultices Is Very Useful

By DR. LEONARD K. HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins University.)

Compresses are either hot or cold, and are applied according to the nature of the requirement. A cold compress consists of folded cloths or absorbent cotton dipped in cool or ice water and wrung out sufficiently to avoid dripping, and is designed to lessen the blood-flow in the area upon which it is placed. If, for example, there is considerable fever in the head, the compress is placed over the forehead or over the eyes in order that the scarlet fluid may flow more slowly in that region.

Although the ice-cap or ice-bag is probably a quicker preparation and can be applied with less difficulty than the compress, it is quite beyond the limits of some persons to employ it without consultation beforehand with a physician. The ice-bag or cap, it is true, fits quite well the area it is applied to, and is easily handled, but its cooling effect is very rapid. The scarlet stream may thus be irregularly cooled in some localities instead of becoming slowly cooled throughout the body. Sudden chilliness thus obtained may prove injurious.

The warm or hot compress consists of hot wrappings of wool or cotton. Wool is a non-conductor of heat, and when dipped into hot water it retains heat for a considerable length of time. It is better for this purpose than cotton bags with heated sand or salt. These are either too warm or too cold, and do not lose their heat slowly and gradually as does wool. Hot woollen compresses are about on a par with hot water bags made of rubber.

Only $172,000 was added to the total of the twelfth federal reserve district at noon today. The official statement covering the money now in bank is reported as $228,238,170, or 57 per cent of the district's quota. The total number of subscribers is now 1,051,438.

James K. Lynch, governor of the twelfth federal reserve bank, issued the following statement today: "The men and women who are trying to sell you Liberty Bonds are not doing so either for pleasure or profit. They are patriotic Americans who are using valuable time to make it easy for you to do your duty. If you are unable to see them when first they call, it is your misfortune. To expect a second call is an impudence. It will be unnecessary to say this were it not for the great number who have said, 'Of course I could have subscribed more, but I know I should be called on again.' No one has the leisure to coax you to meet your responsibilities. If you have not done your utmost come forward with what you are holding out. The slicker is worse than the slacker. The latter may be pro-German. 'We have only four days in which to make good.'

HOME CARDS BOOST CITY'S BOND SALES

Liberty loan workers are canvassing the city with zest and spirit as a result of the issuance of the attractive 100 per cent home cards by the home canvass department of the Liberty loan committee.

Reports of a preliminary nature from the captains and lieutenants of the various precincts of the city said to be showing a widespread response in answer to the appeal of the new home cards.

"Every home, so far as I can discover," said B. P. Shapiro, chairman of the home canvass department of the committee, "seems to desire one of these new cards. We hope that every home in the city will have one and that such qualifications will be made within the next two or three days so that Oakland may go 'over the top' its fourth Liberty loan quota before the drive officially comes to an end next Saturday."

WILL SMOKE 'EM OUT. "If the wage-earning occupants of Oakland's homes fulfill their obligation to the national government as they should and within the period which I have indicated, Oakland will go 'over the top' without difficulty. It is the slacker right now which is holding back the city in the Liberty loan drive. He must be smoked out and that quickly. The time has passed when the slacker can be tolerated. If every home in the city does its duty now every home in the city will be a 100 per cent American institution before the week closes."

According to Shapiro precincts which last week were reported as being practically non-responsive to the Liberty loan drive are being re-canvassed and through the use of the 100 per cent home cards are producing splendid results.

"Some blocks up to the beginning of the present week," said Shapiro, "we were unable to obtain a single subscription. But through the use of the new home cards the men, captains and lieutenants of these same blocks are now reporting subscriptions all the way from $100 to $1000."

"Many of the homes in the various districts of the city are not only qualifying for the new home cards, but in doing so are occupying their in who are wage-earners are doubling their original subscriptions in some cases and in others they are at least buying more bonds."

BANKS ISSUE BADGES. Today the local banks began issuing the "I Bought Again" badges of honor. All through the downtown business section pedestrians were conspicuous with these badges. They may be obtained by any one who buys an additional bond of the fourth loan who can present a receipt for a previous purchase during the present drive.

The Oakland chapter of the American Red Cross made the beneficiary in the Liberty bond drive conducted by the students of the Vocational high school. The special Liberty loan committee of the school, of which Miss Juanita Rono is chairman, reports the school as a 100 per cent institution in the sense that the students by a canvass among themselves obtained sufficient money to buy a bond. Every student in the school contributed toward the drive. Other members of the committee were Blane J. Abardi, Lewis Castro and Kirby Cabellera.

ALASKA AND HAWAII OVER. Alaska and Hawaii have both oversubscribed and the other States in the district rank in the following order, according to percentage of quota actually in bank:

Oregon, 86 per cent; Idaho, 81 per cent; Washington, 72 per cent; Utah, 68 per cent; Arizona, 60 per cent; Southern California, 57 per cent; Northern California, 45 per cent; Nevada, 44 per cent.

In the ship naming contest, Los Angeles continues its lead over San Francisco in Class A; Seattle is drawing away from Oakland in Class B, while Portland is well in the lead for first honors.

Berkeley, with 104 per cent, leads in Class D, with San Diego second and Pasadena third; Eureka is first in Class E with 122 per cent. Aberdeen second with 114 per cent and Alameda third with 106 per cent.

SOLDIERS STUDYING. The American Library Association has purchased 600,000 books on mechanical, technical and scientific subjects for the American soldier.

WAR TROPHIES ASKED FOR LIBERTY LOAN

War trophies from the battle fields of France are desired by the Liberty loan committee for display purposes in connection with the local presentation of "America's Answer," the sequel film to "Pershing's Crusaders."

A large number of war trophies, such as helmets, muskets, bugles, belts, uniforms and gas masks are being received by local residents from the boys at the front and it is these reminders of warfare that the local committee desires for the purpose of stimulating interest in the latest official government war film.

It is the intention of the committee to exhibit the war trophies in the foyer of the Kinema theater, where "America's Answer" is being shown this week in conjunction with the closing period of the Liberty loan drive. Each relic will be properly labeled, reading the name of the implement, its use, the nation by which it is used and the name of the soldier or sailor who sent them and whom it was loaned to the committee.

According to the committee the local war exhibit will be carefully guarded at all times, a marine, a soldier or sailor being on constant duty for that purpose. Those who provide the committee with the war relics will be given a receipt for them and after the close of the Liberty loan campaign the trophies will be returned to the owners.

Interesting photos taken "over there," accompanied by explanatory notes, are also desired by the committee in conjunction with this war exhibit. The same precautionary measures are to be observed in the protection of the photographs as were taken in the case of the trophies.

Residents of this city who are in a position to aid the Liberty Loan committee in compiling this war display may exhibit their trophies to the Kinema theater any day after 11 o'clock in the morning.

Store Employees to Hold Loan Drive

At a special meeting of the Taft & Pennoyer Employees Mutual Aid Association held last evening it was voted to subscribe for $800 worth of Fourth Liberty Loan bonds. The association has taken $600 worth of each of the other three issues.

Many members have increased their individual subscriptions and it is expected that every one in the store will have subscribed before the end of the campaign.

Thursday will be Taft & Pennoyer day at the Kinema, when the second war display photo play, "America's Answer," will be shown. A section of the theater will be reserved in the evening for the Taft & Pennoyer people and their friends. Special tickets for same may be had at the store.

G. A. R. Veterans Give All to Aid Nation

Five hundred dollars was invested in the Fourth Liberty Loan this morning by the Admiral D. D. Porter Post No. 169, G. A. R. The entire emergency fund of the post was withdrawn from the bank and went directly into the government security. A special meeting of the members was called by J. S. Dunsor, post commander, in the city hall last night when the funds were accumulated to meet whatever emergency might arise. The veterans of the previous war for independence, who are too old for overseas duty, have placed at the disposal of their country their entire treasury.

LOAN SLACKING MEANS DEFEAT PRESIDENT SOUNDS WARNING

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—President Wilson has issued this statement on the fourth Liberty loan:

"The reply of the German government to my note of inquiry dated October 8 gives occasion for me to say to my fellow countrymen that neither that reply nor any other recent events have in any way diminished the vital importance of this Liberty loan. Relaxation now, hesitation now, would mean defeat when victory seems to be in sight; would mean years of war instead of peace upon our own terms."

"I earnestly request every patriotic American to leave to the governments of the United States and the allies the momentous discussions initiated by Germany and to remember that for each man his duty is to strengthen the hands of these governments and to do in the most important way now immediately presented—by subscribing to the utmost of his ability for bonds of the fourth Liberty loan. That loan must be successful. I am sure that the American people will not fail to see their duty and make it successful."

Actor in Warrior Garb Boosts Bonds

A novelty in Liberty Loan advertising was introduced at Ye Liberty Playhouse Sunday night by Crane Wilbur. Clad in the raiment of a Roman warrior, Wilbur appeared in front of a huge black velvet curtain during the course of "In Walked Jimmy" and delivered a Liberty Loan address as "Public Opinion." The speech was forceful and dramatic and will be used during the week for the sale of bonds in the theater itself.

Barber Gives Recipe For Gray Hair

Tells How to Make a Home-Made Gray Hair Remedy.

Mr. A. E. O'Brien, who has been a barber in New York City for many years, made the following statement: "Gray, streaked or faded hair can be immediately made black, brown or light brown, whichever shade you desire, by the use of the following remedy that you can make at home."

"Simply get a small box of Orlex powder at any drug store. It costs very little and no extra to buy. Dissolve it in water and comb it through the hair. Full directions for mixing and use come in each box."

"You need not hesitate to use Orlex, as a $100.00 gold bond comes in each box guaranteeing the user that Orlex powder does not contain silver, lead, zinc, sulphur, mercury, aniline, coal-tar products or their derivatives."

"It does not rub off, is not sticky or gummy and leaves the hair fluffy. It will make a gray haired person look twenty years younger."—Advertisement.

MAY ALLISON, beautiful young screen star, who will be seen at the American in "The Return of Mary," commencing tomorrow matinee.

MAY ALLISON

A double-feature program selected from the best film productions on the market, contracts for which are held exclusively by the American theater program is the last half of this week commencing with the matinee tomorrow.

May Allison, winsome Metro star who appeared for several seasons as co-star with Harold Lockwood, will be seen in "The Return of Mary," an entrancing story of love, romance and humorous complications. The other feature of the program is the Fox production of the celebrated "Calhoun Case," the true story of the beautiful wife of the former French minister of finance, who risked everything to gratify her selfish ambitions and her mad desire for social recognition, wealth, place and power.

The performances tonight close the engagement of Madge Kennedy and Tom Moore in "The Kingdom of Youth" and Anna Nilsson and Franklin Parnum in "An Judgment." Both splendid pictures—Advertisement.

PRESIDENT'S REPLY HELPS WAR BONDS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15.—Liberty loan subscriptions have been stimulated by President Wilson's reply to the German peace note, according to reports to the treasury today from loan committees throughout the country.

From cities and rural communities came telegrams saying both Liberty loan workers and citizens who had not yet subscribed took new interest in the campaign after reading the President's note eliminating the possibility of an immediate armistice.

With only five days of the campaign left about three billions remained to be raised. All reports indicated renewed assurance that indication would not fail.

The San Francisco district reported fifty-seven per cent of its quota subscribed with percentages by states as follows:

Idaho, 81 per cent; Utah, 68; Arizona, 60; Nevada, 44; Oregon, 56; Washington, 71; Southern California, 55; Northern California, 45.
